Why this is important? Session Description

In 2015, California represented a staggering 21 percent of the nation's homeless population. Across the state, local officials and staff are grappling with solutions to address this complex problem.

In this session, attendees will hear from city officials and staff on how they are using attainable, collaborative solutions to address homelessness and combat the overwhelming problem.

Speakers will share their experiences, best practices and lessons learned in partnering with different agencies to reduce homelessness.

Objectives

- To explore the benefits and opportunities that collaborative efforts provide while working toward solutions for homelessness
- To learn from California leaders about their community wide efforts – from how they got started to the efforts (steps) they've taken to ensure success
- To examine the factors, strategies and best practices that contribute to successful collaborative initiatives

Addressing Homelessness: Attainable, Collaborative Solutions

Ruben Imperial – Stanislaus County
Jim Holgersson – City Manager

League of California Cities
Annual Conference
October 7, 2016

Why?

- Significant resources committed to address symptoms
- Local elected officials shifted focus from treating symptoms to addressing root causes
- Government is not the answer but does have a significant role

How is this different?

- Ten year effort to improve quality of life for all residents in Stanislaus County
- Coordinated prevention efforts across multiple sectors, breaking down silos and aligning our efforts
- A commitment to learning and mutual accountability for measurable results
- Embraced by all nine cities within our County

Four Focus Areas

The Ten Sectors

Leadership

- Stewardship Council
 - Two key influencers from each sector
 - Provides overall leadership and support
 - Guides the development of overarching results and indicators
 - Cultivates commitments within respective sector
- Actions Councils
 - Develops action plans for its focus area
 - Plans implemented by organizations and leaders across the ten sectors

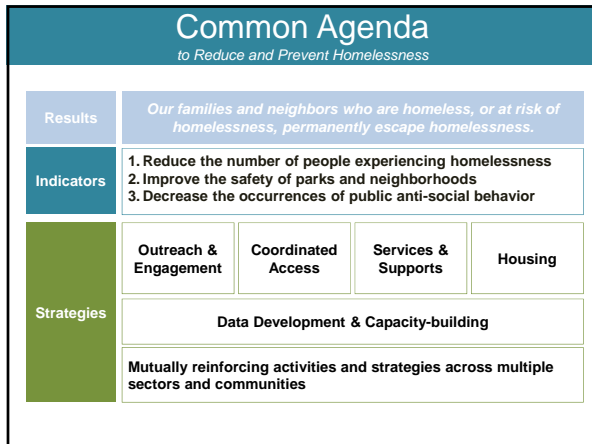

Guiding Values

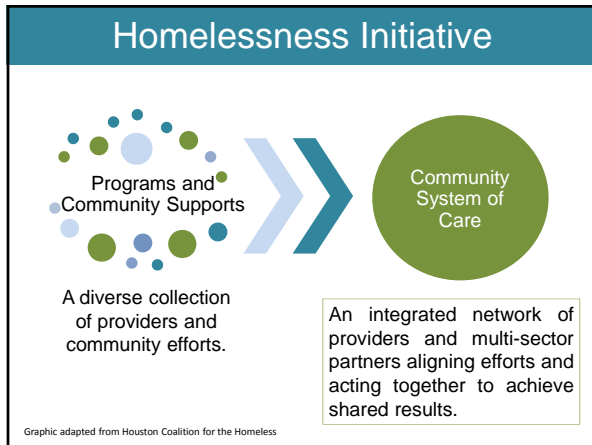

- “Our Community” - there are no “others”
- Compassion & Empathy
- Respect & Dignity
- Mutual accountability, reciprocity, and responsibility

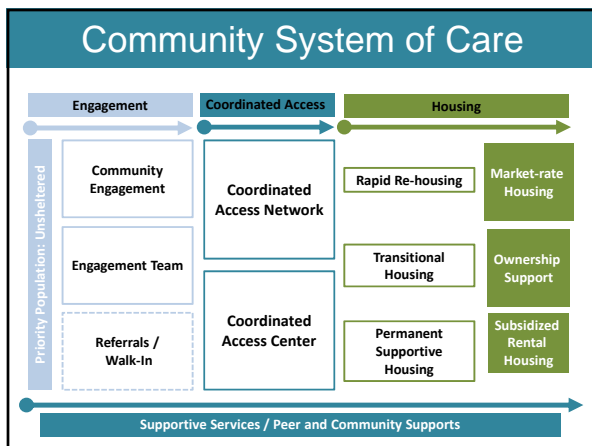

Results

1. Our families are healthy—physically, mentally, emotionally, and spiritually.
2. Our families are supported by strong and safe neighborhoods and communities.
3. Our children and young people are getting a first-rate education — from cradle to career.
4. Our families are participating in and supported by a healthy economy.
5. Our families and neighbors who are homeless, or at risk of homelessness, permanently escape homelessness.
