Basic Ethics Principles

- Holding public office or employment is a public trust.

- Elected officials and staff are obligated to act in the best interests of the public and not for personal or private benefit.

- The law only sets a minimum standard for ethical conduct.
The Role of Your City or Agency Attorney

- Your agency attorney is an important resource for information on what the law requires of you.

- His or her job is to promote compliance with public service ethics laws.

- Your agency attorney also wants to avoid a situation in which an agency action could be subject to challenge because an official participated in a decision that the official shouldn’t have.

State and Local Ethics Laws

- Economic Interest Disclosure (Form 700)
- Conflicts of Interest
  - Under the Political Reform Act (GC Section 87100)
  - “Pay-to-Play” – (GC Section 84308)
  - Conflicts of Interest in contracts – (GC Section 1090)
- Gifts
- Honoraria Ban
- Leaving Office Conflicts
The Political Reform Act

- The PRA seeks to bring a degree of credibility to government by providing that those who hold a public trust must act, and appear to act, ethically. Erosion of confidence in public officials is detrimental to democracy…To maintain confidence and to avoid public skepticism, conflicts of interest must be shunned.

Financial Interest Disclosure (Form 700)

- Purpose of Disclosure:

  - Assets and income of public officials that may be materially affected by their official actions should be disclosed and in appropriate circumstances the officials should be disqualified from acting in order that conflicts of interest may be avoided.

  Govt Code Section 81002(c)
Who Must File?

- 87200 Filers (including city councilmembers, planning commissioners)
- Persons in positions listed in agency conflict-of-interest code ("designated employees")
- “Designated employees” include persons in agencies who make decisions that may foreseeably have a material effect on any financial interest of the employee (may include consultants under private contract)

What is Disclosed?

- Investments
- Income (including compensation & gifts of $50 or more)
- Business Positions
- Real Property
- Disclosure based on position with the local agency
What is a Conflict of Interest?

No public official at any level of state or local government shall make, participate in making or in any way attempt to use his or her official position to influence a governmental decision in which he or she knows or has reason to know that he or she has a financial interest.

(GC 87100)
Conflict of Interest (GC Section 87100)

- A public official (includes elected officials and staff) cannot:
  - Make, participate in making, or use official position to influence
  - A government decision in which
  - The public official, the official’s spouse or dependent child
  - Has a financial interest

What Precautions Can Be Taken?

- Identify the interests that may cause a conflict of interest.
- What are the interests that may be the basis for a conflict of interest?
  - Business investment, employment or management position
  - Real Property (interests of $2,000 or more)
  - Sources of Income ($500 or more within 12 mos. of a decision)
  - Gifts (of $460 or more within 12 mos. of a decision)
  - Personal Finances A public official has an interest in his or her own personal finances and those of his or her immediate family (GC Section 87103, Regulation 18700)
- Consider the decision’s effect on your interest
  - Is it foreseeable and material?
- Does an exception apply?
Exceptions

- Public Generally:
  - Applies when the financial effect of a decision on an official’s interest is indistinguishable from its effect on the public generally.

- Legally Required Participation:
  - Is the official’s participation in the decision legally required? Applies only in certain very specific circumstances where a government agency would be paralyzed or unable to act.

Manner of Disqualification

- Specific disqualification requirements apply to certain officials identified under Section 87200 (city councilmembers, members of boards of supervisors, planning commissioners, etc.)

- These officials must:
  - Orally identify the economic interest that creates the conflict.
  - Must leave the room before discussion or vote takes place unless the item is on consent.
Subdivision (d): NOTE: Language indicates FUTURE Action

Step 2: Will the reasonably foreseeable financial effect be material?

Step 3: Affirmative Defense: Can the public official demonstrate that the material financial effect on his financial interest is indistinguishable from its effect on the public generally?

Step 4: Prohibition: If Three-Step analysis establishes a conflict, the official may not make, participate in making or attempt to use his official position to influence a governmental decision.

Personal Financial Effect

- Personal finances of public official or of his/her immediate family
Decisions

- Make, participate in or influence
Reasonably Foreseeable –

- Financial Interest Explicitly Involved: A financial effect on a financial interest is presumed to be reasonably foreseeable if the financial interest is a named party in, or the subject of, a governmental decision before the official or the official's agency. A financial interest is the subject of a proceeding if the decision involves the issuance, renewal, approval, denial or revocation of any license, permit, or other entitlement to, or contract with, the financial interest, and includes any governmental decision affecting a real property financial interest.

Step 1: Reasonably Foreseeable –

- Financial Interest Not Explicitly Involved in Decision: A financial effect need not be likely to be considered reasonably foreseeable. In general, if the financial effect can be recognized as a realistic possibility and more than hypothetical or theoretical, it is reasonably foreseeable. If the financial result cannot be expected absent extraordinary circumstances not subject to the public official's control, it is not reasonably foreseeable.

- Factors: intervening events, create advantage or disadvantage, cause weighing of advantages to interest.
Material Financial Effect

The Big Picture
- If the financial interest is explicitly involved in the governmental decision, the materiality standard is automatically met.
- If the financial interest is not explicitly involved, the materiality standard is generally based on a reasonable person standard.

1) The financial effect of a governmental decision is not material if it is
   - Nominal
   - Inconsequential
   - Insignificant
Step 2: Material Financial Effect Sources of Income

For income from the sale of goods and services provided in the ordinary course of business, including a salary, the financial effect is material if:

1) The source is a claimant, applicant, respondent, contracting party, or is otherwise named or identified as the subject of the proceeding
2) The source is an individual whose personal finances will be affected by the decision per Regulation 18702.5, or The official knows or has reason to know that the individual has
   × An interest in a business entity that will be financially affected by the decision 1 or
   × An interest real property that will be financially affected by the decision
3) The source is a nonprofit that will receive a measurable financial benefit or loss, or the official knows or has reason to know that the nonprofit has an interest in real property that will be financially affected by the decision
4) The source is a business entity that will be financially affected by the decision

Step 2: Material Financial Effect –Sources of Income

For income from the sale of personal or real property belonging to the official, or the official’s spouse if the property is community property, the financial effect of the decision is material if the official knows or has reason to know that the source of income is

- A claimant, applicant, respondent, contracting party, or is otherwise named or identified as the subject of the proceeding
- Has an interest in any business entity that will be financially affected by the decision
- Has an interest in any real property that will be financially affected by the decision
Step 2: Material Financial Effect – Sources of Income

- Nexus: “Income for Outcome” Any reasonably foreseeable financial effect on a person who is a source of income to a public official is deemed material if
  - The public official receives or is promised the income to achieve a goal or purpose
  - The goal or purpose would be achieved, defeated, aided, or hindered by the decision

Step 2: Material Financial Sources of Income

- Exception - Income from Retail Sales of a Business Entity
  - Retail customers = significant segment of the public generally if
    - Business is open to the public and
    - Customers comprise a broad base of persons in jurisdiction
  - Income from an individual customer is not distinguishable from the amount of income received from other customers when
    - The official is unable to recognize a significant monetary difference between the business provided by the individual customer and the general clientele of the business.
    - An official is unable to recognize a significant monetary difference when either:
      1) The business is of the type that sales to any one customer will not have a significant impact on the business’s annual net sales; or
      2) The business has no records that distinguish customers by amount of sales, and the official has no other information that the customer provides significantly more income to the business than an average customer.
Step 2: Material Financial Effect: Sources of Gifts

- The financial effect of a governmental decision on the source of a gift to a public official is material if:
  - a) The source is a claimant, applicant, respondent, contracting party, or is otherwise named or identified as the subject of the proceeding; or
  - b) The source is an individual whose personal finances will be affected by the decision, or
    - The official knows or has reason to know that the individual has
      - An interest in a business entity that will be financially affected by the decision or
      - An interest in real property that will be financially affected by the decision
    - The source is a nonprofit that will receive a measurable financial benefit or loss, or the official knows or has reason to know that the nonprofit has an interest in real property that will be financially affected by the decision per Regulation 18702.2
  - a) The source is a business entity that will be financially affected by the decision

Step 2: Material Financial Effect – Personal Finances

- Subdivision (a)
  - The financial effect is material if
    - The official or the official’s immediate family member will receive a measurable financial benefit or loss from the decision
    - New: no specified monetary threshold
Exceptions

- Public Generally:
  - Applies when the financial effect of a decision on an official’s interest is indistinguishable from its effect on the public generally.

- Legally Required Participation:
  - Is the official’s participation in the decision legally required?
  - Applies only in certain very specific circumstances where a government agency would be paralyzed or unable to act.

Conflicts of Interest in Contracts (GC 1090)

- Rule: No government officer or employee may participate in making a governmental contract in which he or she is financially interested.

- Purpose: To make certain that “every public officer be guided solely by the public interest, rather than by personal interest, when dealing with contracts in an official capacity.”

- Penalties: The contract is void. The official who is convicted may be subject to criminal penalties and is forever disqualified from holding office.
1090

- Board members are conclusively presumed to have made any contract executed by the board or an agency under its jurisdiction, even if the board member has disqualified himself or herself from any and all participation in the making of the contract. Therefore, if a board member is financially interested in the contract and no exception applies, section 1090 prohibits the contract from being made.
- However, when an employee, as opposed to a board member, is financially interested in a contract, the employee’s agency may still enter into the contract, as long as the employee plays no role whatsoever in the contracting process.

Conflicts of Interest
Gov. Code § 1090

- Section 1090 does not define when an official is financially interested in a contract; however, courts have applied the prohibition to include a broad range of interests.
- Sections 1091-1091.6, enumerate certain “remote” and “non-interests” that, once disclosed, do not prevent an officer from participating in the making of a contract.
1090 Conflicts

- Financial Interests:
  - An employment relationship
  - Attorney, agent or broker of a contracting party
  - Supplier of services or goods to a contracting party
  - Landlord or tenant of a contracting party
  - Officer or employee of a nonprofit corporation that is a contracting party
  - Community property and separate property interests of the official's spouse

The Prohibition is Absolute

- 1090 applies regardless of whether:
  - The contract is fair or equitable
  - The contract is let for bid
  - The official abstains

- Contracts in violation of 1090 are void
- Violation of 1090 is a FELONY
“Pay-to-Play” Statute (Section 84308)

- Section 84308 is a law aimed at preventing so-called “pay-to-play.”

- It prohibits a party seeking a contract (other than competitively bid), license, permit, or other entitlement for use from making a contribution of more than $250 to an officer of the agency awarding the contract.

2017 Local Agency Ethics Training

Presented by:
Maggie W. Stern
Three Topics

- Fair Processes
- Government Transparency
- Use of Public Funds

Fair Processes

Common Law Bias Prohibitions

- Officials may be biased if they have a personal interest in the outcome of a decision or action (whether financial or not)
- Officials must have an undivided allegiance to their agency
Fair Processes

Due Process

- If a person or a person’s property interest may be affected by a decision, the person must be provided notice and an opportunity to be heard
- Generally applies to judicial and quasi-judicial decisions and not legislative decisions

- Contact with either side outside of the proceedings is discouraged and must be disclosed. The other side must have an opportunity to respond
Fair Processes

Doctrine of Incompatible Public Offices

- An official may not hold two incompatible public offices at the same time
- An incompatibility may exist if the duties could hypothetically conflict, for example: a City Council Member who is on the Fire District Board in overlapping jurisdictions

Competitive Bidding Requirement

- Public works (construction) contracts must be put out to a competitive bid
Fair Processes

Bribery
Pursuant to Penal Code section 68, it is a felony for a public official to accept, or agree to accept, anything of value in exchange for an official act.

Fair Processes

Anti-Nepotism Policies
- No state mandate
- Rules may be adopted by each agency
Fair Processes

- Consequences for breaking the rules:
  - Forfeiture of office
  - Fines from the FPPC
  - Fines against the city
  - Injunctions against the city

Government Transparency

Brown Act

- Requires that “meetings” of “legislative bodies” be open to the public
- A meeting of a legislative body triggers many requirements
  - Meeting Notice Requirements
  - Public Participation Requirements
  - Open Deliberation
  - And more
Government Transparency

Brown Act

- A “legislative body” includes the city council, lower decision-making bodies (e.g. planning commission), and many advisory bodies

- A “meeting” can occur when a majority of the members of the body meet
- Meetings may occur virtually or through intermediaries
- Teleconferencing
- When is a meeting not a meeting?
Government Transparency

Brown Act – Types of Meetings
- General
- Special
- Adjourned or Continued
- Emergency

Brown Act – Agenda Requirements
- Posting
- Contents
- Additions
- Restrictions
Government Transparency

Brown Act
Closed Session meetings are non-public meetings of a legislative body. Closed session meeting may only be held for:

- real property negotiations,
- conference with the City's attorney for existing or anticipated litigation, and
- certain personnel issues
- limited other special cases

Government Transparency

Brown Act
Closed session meetings notice and disclosure requirements

- Safe harbor agenda descriptions
- Reporting-out
Government Transparency

Public Records Act

- Public records must be disclosed promptly upon request unless the record clearly falls within a listed exception
- Agencies are required to take a liberal view of requests. Public Records Act requests need not be made in writing, nor must the requesting party cite the Government Code or state that they are requesting the records pursuant to the Public Records Act

- “Public record” is defined broadly
- The agency must respond within 10 days; and provide records within reasonable amount of time thereafter
- Exceptions exist for some sensitive or private records
Government Transparency

Public Records Act

- No duty to create records that do not already exist
- Form of document production
- Payment of copying costs
- Rolling productions are permissible

Consequences for breaking the rules:

- Litigation under the Public Records Act or Brown Act.
- Unnecessary costs to the city
- Injunctions against the city
- Bad PR for you and the city
Use of Public Funds

Pursuant to Penal Code section 424 - The unauthorized use of public funds is punishable by up to four years in prison and disqualification from holding public office.

Use of Public Funds

Pursuant to Government Code section 8314 - The use of public resources (e.g. facilities, equipment) for campaign activity or personal use is prohibited

• Excluding voter education as discussed in the following slide.
Use of Public Funds
